

To Whom It May Concern,

I am officially recommending William Christman, owner of Urban Coyote Solutions, for professional services pertaining to the removal of coyotes. I have known William for many years. His knowledge of coyote ecology in urban and suburban environments is unparalleled. The effort required to fully understand and predict coyote behavior takes a lifetime of education, research, experimentation, and a total commitment to precision. William has accomplished these things. He has guided me through many perplexing situations, solving difficult problems, and bringing resolution to the conflicts experienced by my customers. Without his guidance and oversight, these issues would have remained unresolved. I have full faith and confidence in his knowledge, experience, dedication and honesty. Please feel free to reach out to me with any questions.

Sincerely,
